

Fact Finder: Features of Conservation Education Programs Relevant to Time-based Media Art

Stuttgart State Academy of Fine Arts:

Conservation of New Media and Digital Information

Organization and location	State Academy of Fine Arts, Am Weißenhof 1, 80191 Stuttgart, Germany
Home page	www.abk-stuttgart.de/knmdi
Language of teaching	German
Degrees	Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts in Conservation of New Media and Digital information
Specialization	Major tracks of study: Time based Media; Media Art History; Archives & Libraries; Analogue and Digital Image and Sound Processes; Ethics of Restoration; Media Exhibition Technology; Technology & Digitisation of AV Media; Digital Restoration; Electronics; Computer Technology; Long-Term Preservation and Integrity of Digital Data; Applied Natural Science; Informatics; Netart; Streaming Media; Game Culture; VR &3D; practical work and internships
Relevant to TBM art conservation	The program is fully dedicated to this topic.
Admission requirements	General higher education entrance qualification; University of Applied Sciences entrance qualification with Delta Exam ("Deltaprüfung"); German language skills (DSH1 language test/ DAF3 test/ B2 level) ; Professionals without a general higher education entrance qualification please contact the Office of Student Affairs. 12-month internship prior to commencement of studies; There is no entry restriction (NC), random selection or waiting list.
Admission process	The admission process is competitive and requires an online application. Proof of suitability by passing the entrance examination; Admission is once a year for the winter semester. Information on dates, application and admission procedures can be found at: www.abk-stuttgart.de/en/studies/apply More info: https://www.abk-stuttgart.de/en/studies/for-those-interested/student-information-brochures.html
Tuition and fees	International applicants coming from a non EU/ EWR country have to pay tuition fees, see https://www.abk-stuttgart.de/en/studies/studying/fees.html
Student support	We provide a tuition-free education for applicants coming from EU/EWR countries. Financial aid via grants possible. More info: https://www.abk-stuttgart.de/en/studies/studying/office-of-student-affairs.html
Additional sources of income and support	Travel costs and related expenses are reimbursed for presenters at conferences. Opportunities to work as an in house student assistant.

Duration of study	Bachelor: 6 semesters (3 years), Master: 4 semesters (2 years), both including external internships. https://www.abk-stuttgart.de/en/studies/studying.html Master of arts allows for access to the doctoral programs. The ABK Stuttgart has the authorisation to grant doctoral degrees with the academic degree “Doctor of Philosophy”
Program overview	https://www.abk-stuttgart.de/knmdi.html#s KNMDI
Alumni achievements	Alumni are working in the fields of preservation, conservation and restoration of time-based media, film, photography and digital information in archives, libraries, museums, cultural institutions and in the field of preservation management.
Further information	https://www.abk-stuttgart.de/en/search.html?q=phd https://www.abk-stuttgart.de/en/studies/studying/office-of-student-affairs.html Office of Student Affairs T + 49 (0)711 28440-106/-107 studieren@abk-stuttgart.de https://www.instagram.com/abk_knmdi/
Last update	2022/07/07